Memorandum
July 2, 2014

The San Francisco District Attorney's Office is grateful to the following for its support of the District Attorney's Office:

The Vera Institute of Justice for its in-kind support and technical assistance for the Prosecution and Racial Justice Project (PRJ), valued at $408,000. PRJ will provide in-kind research to enhance prosecutorial accountability and performance. Through this partnership, PRJ will work collaboratively with the SFDA to analyze data about the exercise and impacts of prosecutorial discretion; assist in developing routine policies and practices that promote fairness, efficiency and professionalism in prosecution; and provide technical assistance to help prosecutors implement those measures. By partnering with PRJ, the SFDA stands to gain additional mechanisms for monitoring the exercise of discretion within the office to ensure that they represent the office values encouraging fairness, promoting efficiency and enhancing the integrity of the prosecutorial role.

The Vera Institute of Justice for its in-kind support and technical assistance grant valued at $228,283 to enhance the Office's Community Safety Performance & Intelligence Strategy, to prevent crime and victimization by improving operational performance and increasing the use of intelligence about criminal activity. Through this partnership, the Vera Institute will provide an on-site research fellow to validate and elucidate case processing data, facilitate the comprehensive implementation of the SFDA's case management system, and conduct complex analysis and evaluation for the Office's data-based performance tool, DA Stat.
